To Whom it may concern,

Having reviewed “A Guide to Help Business Tradies Get Paid”, I believe this could be a useful tool to consider for any tradie wanting to start a business.

It is easy to understand and user friendly. It provides a good guide to jump start your business and relevant topics to consider before and after starting your business.

Having this document in your phone would be a good quick reference guide.

I have been in the building industry for over 40 years and would recommend this guide.

Builder: Anthony Gleeson

“The information included in setting up a company is really accurate. The more planning and consultation you can do before starting up the better.

Having been in business for over 40 years, I certainly agree with all the set up advice.

Finding a good solicitor and accountant and establishing a good relationship with them is vital to long term success.

Always invest in a quality computer program that includes updates pricing of materials etc to quote accurately and to invoice quickly and track payments.

Hourly rates should be regularly reviewed to ensure that profits are maintained.

This is such a valuable document for any tradesperson contemplating starting a business.

It is full of information vital to establishing a business from scratch including one of the most vital aspects of business, getting paid.

I wish I had access to this information at the start of my career”.
