

Working with Bullying Issues: Lets Get Practical!

Following on from our seminars "Is Bullying Making Your Job Difficult and Unpleasant?" we are holding a half day workshop on practical strategies and techniques for addressing bullying issues and complaints.

Bullying Issues can be very complex and the resolution requires a skilled and nuanced approach. Like any skill, you need to practice to be able to apply it successfully.

Can you afford not to be prepared?

You're invited to a half day workshop where we will follow on from our seminar and put some of the techniques and guidelines in to practice.

You will practice:

- What makes a useful bullying complaint? Whether you are compiling, receiving or responding to a complaint, having the complaint properly and fairly constructed is vital to being able to resolve the issues and move forward.
- How do you respond to a complaint? The response is key to moving forward and to avoid getting stuck in an intractable situation.
- Resolution strategies that enable everyone to get on with their work!
- Reactive and Proactive strategies for other stakeholders – other employees, customers and suppliers.
